

Upcoming deadline for the first two business missions

02 Mar. 2016

EU Gateway | Business Avenues which takes-off this July 4-8, will target Green Energy Technologies in Korea for its inaugural business mission. Korea aims to be one of the top 5 renewable energy powerhouses, with public investments in this sector set to reach €3.75 billion in 2017. European companies participating in this business mission will have access to dedicated exhibition space from which to showcase their products and services. Each participating company will also benefit from personalised matchmaking services, including pre-arranged meetings with a number of potential business partners.

The following week, July 11-15, a business mission to South East Asia will take place for a different set of European companies. This business mission, targeting Environment & Water Technologies, is linked to the Singapore International Water Week, a bi-annual global platform that brings together stakeholders from the water industry to share best practices, showcase the latest innovations and explore business opportunities. The business week in South East Asia also includes a leg to Vietnam, a growing market which recently concluded a Free Trade Agreement with the EU. This agreement will allow EU companies to access a fast-growing market of 90 million people and to consolidate their presence in this dynamic region.

If your company is interested in these markets, make sure you submit your expression of interest and application by 25 March 2016.
